Name	Description	Visionary	Contact Details
1) Leadership development Models Land Reform cannot work until the right people, get the right land, with the right support. Developing leaders with Character is vital to this process. All cultures share the success of having the right father-type leaders, who lead well for the benefit, empowerment of all. Most cultures also experienced the demise, suffocation and destruction of selfish, egotistical, greedy leaders.
City Elders network	Establish a network of Local Elder Councils for every town and city in South Africa to unlock social cohesion and build new social covenants infused with moral values and commitments and where communities unite and take responsibility for inequalities and rebuild healthy economic hubs of collaboration	Jacques Malan Mkangeli Matomela	jacques@fathersvoice.co.za https://www.fathersvoice.co.za matomelamkangeli.kgm@gmail.com https://newnation.org.za
The World Needs a Father	The World Needs A Father is a global movement of fathers committed to building unbreakable families and healthy communities. We provide practical parenting tools through trainings, resources and mentorship, and a global, like-minded community intent on bringing heaven home. Founded on common sense and the principles for healthy family, The World Needs A Father is about training communities of men to understand the value of their roles as fathers, and giving them the tools to train other men around them, so that as heaven splashes down in their home, the ripples flow through their community.	Cassie Carstens	Moolmanshoek https://www.theworldneedsafather.com
2) Multi-sectorial socio-economic financial models Land Reform is too costly and difficult to succeed single-handedly by either government, the farmer or the land seeker. But when everyone is required to make a contribution, and work together, we will significantly improve our changes, and ultimate success, without damaging the economy or food security.
Adama / Unigrain	"Every-one must give". (Hennie Viljoen) for example - Commercial farmers willingly give an amount, the mining sector gives land, the government gives recognition and security of ownership, the agriculture value chain gives, the banks give decreased interest rates for commercial farmers, producers, producer organisations and NGO's give, the private sector and overseas (including past colonial powers) give money. Shift the obligation to support Land Reform in the commercial agricultural sector from owners (who keep on changing) to the land that they own. Each farm needs to contribute a percentage(%) of its value to a land fund to buy commercial farms in the free market to establish young black and brown commercial farmers who are comprehensively trained and selected based on objective criteria.	Hennie de Lange Hennie Viljoen	http://www.unigrain.co.za http://amosafrica.net

3) Shared ownership cluster model

Shared collaboration is going to become the only way, through which economies of scale can be achieved by the small medium scale farmer. Shared and applied values is critical for sustainable unity.

MD Foundation	Economies of scale of initially 5 now 12 family farmers pooling resources and farming together Able to meaningfully impact community with a clinic, hospice and farm school	Hannes Pretorius	Ficksburg FS https://mdfoundation.co.za
---------------	---	------------------	---

4) Mediation & bridgebuilding Agencies (relational networking)

The biggest obstacle for white and black farmers, and prospecting students to find each other, is to build trust. Agriculture is a highly relational industry, and inclusion only possible through mutual trust. Hence the vital role of mutually trusted intermediaries.

Farm For Africa	Under the FarmForAfrica model participating farmers undergo training where they are equipped with skills to effectively mentor prospective farmers. They are assisted to, on an emotional level, work through their historical wounds and understand the role they can play in Africa. FarmForAfrica has accumulated a database of skilled farmers, many of whom have left agriculture because of political and social reasons in countries like South Africa and Zimbabwe. These farmers have become available to the rest of Africa and are eager to seize the opportunity. Agricultural Training, Community Development and Health care	Hein Holm	http://farmforafrica.com

5) Rural Enterprise Development

The greatest critical hotspot in land-reform is the approximately 16 million people living in informal settlements, are squatter areas. No one takes responsibility for these people, yet they are further weakening a fragile infrastructure that effects everyone.

GF4GF	Demonstrates living and farming God's way; establish a safe and supportive family environment to change lives and transfer skills; to raise a new generation of local leaders with skills and integrity to positively impact their community; establish a new generation of farmers and farm workers who are equipped with knowledge, skills, work experience, integrity and biblical values; provide a physical place to add value to the rural economy through agriculture and business. Brian Oldreive Boet Pretorius	http://www.foundationsforfarming.co.za boetencia@gmail.com
Farming God's way	Farming God's Way is not just a technology, but a well-balanced biblical, management and technological solution for the agricultural domain, to come out of poverty with what God has put in their hands, and to reveal the fullness of His promised abundant life.	Wilhelm Els	https://www.farming-gods-way.org

Neil Pretorius	http://www.hungerandthirst.net info@hungerandthirst.net

6) New Economic Model: Land Value Tax or Location Value Tax (LVT)

Radical Economic reform is not to legalise taking from one group and giving it to the other. It is reforming the whole way we have been doing it, so that everyone can benefit.

Pittsburgh & Harris, Pennsylvania USA	LVT is not only the fastest and most efficient way to achieve land reform and redistribution, but also the best solution for other socio-economic problems being experienced in South Africa today such as unemployment, poverty, wealth inequality, corporate greed, monopolies, boom/bust cycles and even pollution and climate change. LVT is in line with shared value systems such as the Bible and the Freedom Charter making it fair, just and moral; world-renowned economists recommend it as the 'perfect tax'; it has none of the shortfalls of the current taxation system; its implementation is driven by the LVT economy and not dependent on government; it will unite South Africans by eliminating the socialism/capitalism issue and promoting a culture of ubuntu; and it will create a stimulus for sustained economic growth by providing a favourable tax environment to set in motion a wave of productivity and efficiency, a wave of creativity, innovation & entrepreneurship, and a wave of foreign investments.	Dave Turner	devlei@vodamail.co.za

7) Private knowledge Transfer Internship/Mentorship Programs

South Africa needs more agricultural colleges, and training centres, but often graduating students remain jobless, not finding an entrance. When major commodity groupings offer apprenticeship type training, the students learn and grow within the industry where he or she will eventually work for a lifetime.

10) Ownership + Mentorship + Transfer

Helping passionate farm-workers, and small scale farmers to own their own land, is the most straightforward direct solution to equitable land reform, but not without trusted and respected mentorship.

AgriDwala	1432ha 100% PDI owned operation, 584ha own land and 948ha Rented land. Directors have 0% ownership. Have received Dept of Land Reform funding. Continual deployment of foundational principles of mentorship and custodianship. Learnt that “agricultural land, without mentorship and accountability equals destruction and poverty.” “success is achieved by making others successful” “Our business consists of many people, each with his/her own unique gifts, talents, and personality. It is vital to understand this to mentor the group well, because the actions of one person, do influence others! For this reason, we make time to listen to each other, to care for each other, and to help each other. We don't leave our community behind; we uplift people so that they can uplift their surroundings in return.”	Kosie van Zyl	Napier, Overberg WC www.agridwalaquestfarm.co.za lize@twk.co.za

The role of the church, as mediator, to bring the rich and poor together, can never be underestimated or neglected.
